Father woke up Odongo and Apiyo as they arrived in the village. They found Nyar-Kanyada, their grandmother, resting on a mat under a tree. Nyar-Kanyada in Luo, means 'daughter of the people of Kanyada'. She was a strong and beautiful woman.

Nyar-Kanyada welcomed them into the house and danced around the room singing with joy. Her grandchildren were excited to give her the presents they brought from the city. “First open my gift,” said Odongo. “No, my gift first!” said Apiyo.

Amaze gufungura izo mpano, Nyirakamana yabahaye umugisha wa kibyeyi.

The next day, the children's father drove back to the city leaving them with Nyar-Kanyada.

One morning, Odongo took his grandmother's cows to graze. They ran onto a neighbour's farm. The farmer was angry with Odongo. He threatened to keep the cows for eating his crops. After that day, the boy made sure that the cows did not get into trouble again.

When their father came to fetch them, they did not want to leave. The children begged Nyar-Kanyada to go with them to the city. She smiled and said, “I am too old for the city. I will be waiting for you to come to my village again.”

Umutoni na Hirwa baramuhobera cyane bamusezeraho.

Odongo and Apiyo both hugged her tightly and said goodbye.

Umutoni na Hirwa basubiye ku ishuri babwira inshuti zabo iby'ubuzima bwo mu cyaro. Abana bamwe bumva ubuzima bwo mu mugri ari bwo bwiza. Abandi bumva kuba mu cyaro ari byiza kurusha kuba mu mugri. icyo bose bahurijeho ni uko Umutoni na Hirwa bafite nyirakuru mwiza.

...

When Odongo and Apiyo went back to school they told their friends about life in the village. Some children felt that life in the city was good. Others felt that the village was better. But most of all, everyone agreed that Odongo and Apiyo had a wonderful grandmother!
