Simbegwire

Lè manman Simbegwire mouri, Simbegwire te tris anpil. Papa'l fè tout sa li te kapab pou'l okipe piti fi li. Ofiyamezi, yo kòmanse santi yo byen san manman an. Chak maten, yo chita ansanm pou yo pale sou kisa ka pwal pase nan jounen jodya. chak swa, yo fè manje ansanm. Lè yo finn lave asyèt yo, papa Simbegwire ede li fè devwa li.

When Simbegwire's mother died, she was very sad. Simbegwire's father did his best to take care of his daughter. Slowly, they learned to feel happy again, without Simbegwire's mother.
Every morning they sat and talked about the day ahead. Every evening they made dinner together. After they washed the dishes, Simbegwire's father helped her with homework.

One day, Simbegewire's father came home later than usual. "Where are you my child?" he called. Simbegewire ran to her father. She stopped still when she saw that he was holding a woman's hand. "I want you to meet someone special, my child. This is Anita," he said smiling.

Anita »

Yon jou, papa Simbegewire touneen laky li pita base anvan. Li mande Simbegewire « Ki kote ou ye pitit mwen an? ». Simbegewire kouri al jwenn tap kenbe men yon madam. Papa a di li ak yon souri « Mwen ta renmen ou rankontre yon moun espesyal, pitit mwen an. Moun sa a se Anita di li « Bonjou Simbegwire, papa ou pale'm anpil de ou ». Men, Anita pas janm souri ni pa janm kenbe li. Papa Simbegwire te gen kè kontan. Li di ke yo twa ta pral viv byen ansanm "Ptit mwen an, mwen ta byen kontan si Anita ta manman ou.

"Hello Simbegwire, your father told me a lot about you," said Anita. But she did not smile or take the girl's hand. Simbegwire's father was happy and excited. He talked about the three of them living together, and how good their life would be. "My child, I hope you will accept Anita as your mother," he said.

Lòt semen nan, Anita envite Simbegwire ak kouzen li yo ak matant li vin manje lakay li. Se te yon bèl fèt ! Anita te pare tout manje Simbegwire re renmen enpi tout moun manje vant deboutenen. Apre sa a, timoun yo ale jwe pandan gramoun you rete pale. Simbegwire te gen kè kontan. Li deside tounen lakay li byen vit pou li viv ak papa e ak bèlmè li.

The next week, Anita invited Simbegwire, with her cousins and aunt, to the house for a meal. What a feast! Anita prepared all of Simbegwire's favourite foods, and everyone ate until they were full. Then the children played while the adults talked. Simbegwire felt happy and brave. She decided that soon, very soon, she would return home to live with her father and her stepmother.

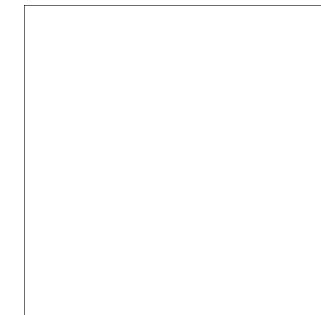

Papa a kontinyé vini we li chak jou. Yon jou li vini ak Anita. Anita lonje men bay Simbegwiré enpi li di « Mwen regrett anpil, tififi, mwen pat gen rezon ». Li mande Simbegwiré « eske wap kite, m ese se yon lot fwa anko? ». Simbegwiré gade papal anpil. Li te sispek men ti pa ti pa lale kote Anita aswe. Lé li finn manje, lale direk fè devwa li nan te bouke anpil epi li pat kapab fè devwa li nan te fe pou li. Papa Simbegwiré pa we ke pitit fi li te tris.

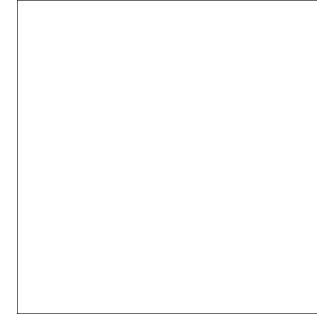

Her father visited her every day. Eventually, he came with Anita. She reached out for Simbegwiré's hand. "I'm so sorry little one, I was wrong," she cried. "Will you let me try again?" Simbegwiré looked at her father and his worried face. Then she stepped forward slowly and put her arms around Anita.

Lavi Simbegwiré komansé chanje. Li pa te gen tan anko pou li chita ak papa li chak maten. Anita te bay si tan travay pou li fè nan kay la ke li te fe pou li. Papa Simbegwiré pa we ke pitit fi li seem to notice that his daughter was unhappy. Her only comfort was the colourful blanket her mother gave her. Simbegwiré's father did not evenings. Simbegwiré's life changed. She no longer had time to sit with her father in the mornings. Anita gave her so many household chores that she was too tired to do her school work in the evenings. She went straight to bed after dinner. was too tired to do her school work in the gave her so many household chores that she time to sit with her father in the mornings. Anita Simbegwiré's life changed. She no longer had Kèk tan apre, papa Simbegwire anonsé ke li te gen pou vwayaje pou yon titan. « Mwen gen pou'm vwayaje pou travay mwen men mwen konnen ke tout bagay pral pase byen ». Figi Simbegwire vinn byen tris men papa a pa janm wè anyen.

After a few months, Simbegwire's father told them that he would be away from home for a while. "I have to travel for my job," he said. "But I know you will look after each other." Simbegwire's face fell, but her father did not notice. Anita did not say anything. She was not happy either.

Simbegwire tap jwe ak kouzen li yo lè li wè papa li ap vin byen lwen. Li te pè ke papa a te fache kidonk li kouri al kache anndan kay la. Men, papa a al jwenn li pou'l li di, "Simbegwire, ou te jwenn yon manman pafè pou tèt ou. Yon moun ki renmen ou ak konprann ou. Mwen fyè de ou menm, mwen renmen ou." Yo te dakò ke Simbegwire ta rete ak matant li osi lontan ke li te vle.

Simbegwire was playing with her cousins when she saw her father from far away. She was scared he might be angry, so she ran inside the house to hide. But her father went to her and said, "Simbegwire, you have found a perfect mother for yourself. One who loves you and understands you. I am proud of you and I love you." They agreed that Simbegwire would stay with her aunt as long as she wanted to.

Things got worse for Simbegwire. If she didn't finish her chores, or she complained, Anita hit her. And at dinner, the woman ate most of the food, leaving Simbegwire with only a few scraps. Each night Simbegwire cried herself to sleep, hugging her mother's blanket.

Sitiyasyon vin pi mal pou Simbegwire. Si li pat fin travay li nan kay la oswa si li te plenyen, Anita te koun bat li. Le pou manje, madamn nan manje pifò nan manje a enpi li kite ti kras pou Simbegwire. Chak nwit, Simbegwire krye nan kouveti manman li.

Le papa Simbegwire tounen lakay li, li jwenn chamb pitit fi li vid. Li mande madamn li ak ke lou « Kisa ki pasé, Anita ? ». Madamn li eksplike li ke Simbegwire kouri ale. Li di « Mwen te vle ke li rekspete, men mwen kwe ke, m te two di avèk li drèkson basen an kote sé li rete pou'l mande li ». Papa Simbegwire soti nan kay la, lale nan si li te we Simbegwire.

When Simbegwire's father returned home, he found her room empty. "What happened?" he asked with a heavy heart. The woman left the house and went in the direction of the stream. He continued to his sister's village to perhaps I was too strict," Simbegwire's father wanted her to respect me," she said. "But explained that Simbegwire had run away. "I Anita?" he asked. The woman left the house and went to see Simbegwire.

Yon maten, Simbegwire leve ta. Anita rele byen fò « Paresèz ! ». Li rale Simbegwire sòti nan kabann li. Bèl ti kouvèti manman an ki te pandye sou yon klou shire an de tibout.

One morning, Simbegwire was late getting out of bed. "You lazy girl!" Anita shouted. She pulled Simbegwire out of bed. The precious blanket caught on a nail, and tore in two.

Matant Simbegwire mennen li lakay li. Li bay Simbegwire yon plat manje cho epi li mete'l dòmi nan kabann ak kouvèti manman li. Lè lannwit rive, Simbegwire tonbe dòmi kriye. Men kriye an fwa sa a se kriye kè kontan. Li konnen ke matant li ta pral okipe li.

Simbegwire's aunt took the child to her own house. She gave Simbegwire warm food, and tucked her in bed with her mother's blanket. That night, Simbegwire cried as she went to sleep. But they were tears of relief. She knew her aunt would look after her.

her.

Simbegwire was very upset. She decided to run away from home. She took the pieces of her mother's blanket, packed some food, and left the house. She followed the road her father had taken.

Lé sa a Simbegwire te boulvèse anpil. Li deside sove nan kay la. Li pran kouveti chire an, li pran manje avèk li epi li kite kay la. Li swiv wout papa li te pran.

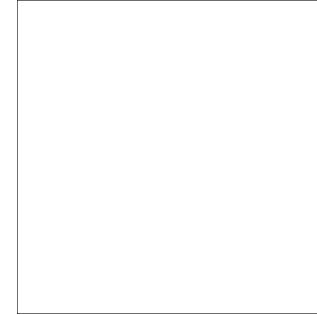

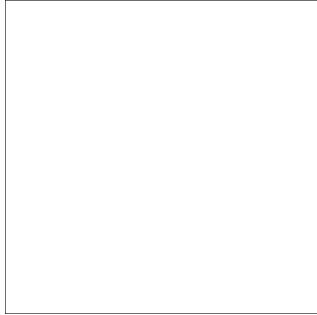

Simbegwire to climb down from the tree. Her aunt hugged the little girl and tried to comfort other women stopped washing and helped she cried, "Simbegwire, my brother's child!" The saw the girl and the pieces of colourful blanket, This woman looked up into the tree. When she yo ede Simbegwire desann pyebwa a. Matant li piit frè mwen!". Lòt medam yo kanpe lave pou fi a ak moso kouveti koulié a. Li rete "Simbegwire, komansé bo li ak esye konsole!", Lè soley la kouche li grenpe yon pyebwa ki a kote yon ti dlo epi li fè yon kabann ak branch pyebwa a. Pandan lap kòmanse dòmi li tonbe chante " Manman, manman, manman, ou kite'm. Ou ale epi ou pa janm tounen. Papa pa renmen'm ankò. Kilè wap tounen manman ? Ou kite'm. »

When it came to evening, she climbed a tall tree near a stream and made a bed for herself in the branches. As she went to sleep, she sang: "Maama, maama, maama, you left me. You left me and never came back. Father doesn't love me anymore. Mother, when are you coming back? You left me."

Demen maten, Simbegwire rechante menm chante an. Lè medam yo rive nan basen an pou lave rad yo, yo tandé yon chante tris kap sòti nan gwo pyebwa a. Nan kòmansman, yo te kwè ke se bwi fey yo epi yo kontinye travay yo. Men yonn nan yo kanpe pou koute chante an ak anpil atansyon.

The next morning, Simbegwire sang the song again. When the women came to wash their clothes at the stream, they heard the sad song coming from the tall tree. They thought it was only the wind rustling the leaves, and carried on with their work. But one of the women listened very carefully to the song.
