It was a little girl who first saw the mysterious shape in the distance.

Akka bocconi suni itti dhihateneen, dubartii ulfa

As the shape moved closer, she saw that it was a heavily pregnant woman.

Salffattu garu muccatin goota tate tuni gara dubartitti hiqixee akkan jetteen, "Dubarti tana walwajjiin turuu qabna," namooni ishes kana murtesan." Dubarti kanafi da'imaa ishees hala gariin tursisina."

Shy but brave, the little girl moved nearer to the woman. "We must keep her with us," the little girl's people decided. "We'll keep her and her child safe."

The donkey child and his mother have grown together and found many ways of living side by side. Slowly, all around them, other families have started to settle.

The child was soon on its way. "Push!" "Bring blankets!" "Water!" "Puuuuuuuuuhhhh!!!"

Yerooma sani dam'mimichi dhu'fe. "Dhibi!" "Ufta halkani fidaa!" "Bishan!" "Dhhiiiiiiiiibaa!!!"

Donkey found his mother, alone and mourning her lost child. They stared at each other for a long time. And then hugged each other very hard.

But when they saw the baby, everyone jumped back in shock. "A donkey?!"

Harrich boode wangodhu qabu baree.

Donkey finally knew what to do.

... the clouds had disappeared along with his friend, the old man.

And so the woman found herself alone again.
She wondered what to do with this awkward child. She wondered what to do with herself.

High up amongst the clouds they fell asleep.
Donkey dreamed that his mother was sick and calling to him. And when he woke up...

One morning, the old man asked Donkey to carry him to the top of a mountain.

Guyya ganama tokko, jarsi chi harreen akka gara gara gubbaa baate isaa kahu gaafate.

But finally she had to accept that he was her child and she was his mother.

Now, if the child had stayed that same, small size, everything might have been different. But the donkey child grew and grew until he could no longer fit on his mother's back. And no matter how hard he tried, he could not behave like a human being. His mother was often tired and frustrated. Sometimes she made him do work meant for animals.

Donkey went to stay with the old man, who taught him many different ways to survive. Donkey listened and learned, and so did the old man. They helped each other, and they laughed together.

Confusion and anger built up inside Donkey. He couldn't do this and he couldn't do that. He couldn't be like this and he couldn't be like that.
He became so angry that, one day, he kicked his mother to the ground.

Garra jarsa kana illaale abdi xinno argate.

Donkey woke up to find a strange old man staring down at him. He looked into the old man's eyes and started to feel a twinkle of hope.

Donkey was filled with shame. He started to run away as far and fast as he could.

By the time he stopped running, it was night,
and Donkey was lost. "Hee haw?" he whispered to the darkness. "Hee Haw?" it echoed back. He was alone. Curling himself into a tight ball, he fell into a deep and troubled sleep.
